

the Hart

April 2025

We hope you're enjoying spring's (slow) start here in Hartford. For those of you shopping for a new apartment, make your tour appointment asap - this is the time of year when things really start to pick up! Not sure what you're in the market for? Check out 2 of our featured units down below!

Community events are in bloom, too, kicking things off with a small business series seminar at Hartford Public Library. Reset celebrates its food incubator cohort, and Earth Day celebrations are set for April 26 at Pope Park West. Click each picture for more info!
